

Ruth M. Ritz, Is Married To Teacher

Miss Ruth May Ritz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Ritz, Pennsburg, was married to Carl B. Trollinger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Trollinger, of Madeira Beach, Fla., in St. Mark's Lutheran Church, Pennsburg.

The Rev. Henry M. Kistler officiated at the ceremony. Mrs. Kistler was at the organ. Miss Phyllis McKinstry of Levittown, Bucks County was vocalist.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother-in-law, G. B. Nightlinger of Folcroft, Pa. She was attended by her sister, Mrs. June Nightlinger, as matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Anna Searfoss of Lankenau Hospital, Philadelphia, and Miss Patricia Ritz, sister of the bride.

Robert Trollinger of Hahneman Hospital in Philadelphia was best man. Guests were ushered by Kenneth Miller of East Greenville and Don De Quivido of Tamaqua.

The new Mrs. Trollinger is a graduate of Lankenau Hospital School of Nursing. Her husband is a graduate of Muhlenberg College and is an English instructor at Slatington High School. At college he was affiliated with Alpha Tau Omega Social fraternity.

A reception for the newlyweds was held at the Washington House, Bechtelsville. After a wedding trip through Florida and the southern states the couple will reside in Slatington.
